BOYUP BROOK - KOJONUP ROAD
(via SCOTTS BROOK ROAD)

NORLUP HOMESTEAD

'Commander' Scott had the first convict-built brick home in the district, using the skills of one J. Smith (brick maker & layer), assigned to him. Evidence of the construction process can still be seen along with other historical matters of interest. J. Smith also built Jayes Homestead (not open to the public) and later Scotts Hotel (now Tavern) in Bridgetown. Norlup Road off Scotts Brook Road - locality of Mayanup.

THE GREGORY TREE

Early exploration of the Boyup Brook area (then known as the 'Upper Blackwood') was marked by a surveyor's bench-mark cut on this tree by Assistant Surveyor A. C. Gregory (1819-1905), during his first journey through the Blackwood District. The remains of the tree can be seen on Gibbs Road.

SEE BROCHURE IN HISTORY

At the locality of Dinninup is found the Upper Blackwood Agricultural Society grounds. Here you can see the oldest standing building in the Shire called 'The Brick Hall', built in 1905 (brick/iron), as well as the 1930 timber hall
known as 'The Large Hall'.

The below Mural, created on the Arthur Rd
corner building, depicts the Agricultural Shows through time. Driving into the township will reveal the old store and other buildings.

A new building was completed in 2022 and it is an ablution block with all amenities
